The contractors who are excavating the McGraw premises, corner of Alherton and Beretania streets, are much concerned in not settling out danger around the hole they have made or in placing a railing there, last night a stranger missed his footing and only by throwing himself backward, prevented a fall into the dangerous place.

A QUICK THING.

Baman Victor Takes a Drink and Dies.

Andrew Victor, a native of France, 50 years of age and employed on the bark of B. Flint, died suddenly yesterday morning.

Deceased was unloading for an hour and left his work to get a drink of water, a supply of which was made for the men.

When next seen, he was lying in the barge near his bunk dead.

Victor had not complained of feeling ill and had drunk nothing. He had been assured since the vessel got into the harbor.

The Deputy Sheriff made an examination of the dead man's bunk but found nothing which would cast any light on the case. The body was removed to the morgue.

HAWAIIAN FAIR IS CONSIDERED

Agriculturists Will Ask the Island Legislature to Help.

The Hawaiian Agricultural Society met last night at the High school, an attendance of about thirty being present to discuss the question of an agricultural fair. On account of the absence of Secretary Higgins, with the books of the society, not much business could be transacted, but it was definitely determined upon that the fair should be given.

President Allan Herbert acted as chairman of the meeting. The subject of the fair was roundly discussed and various ways and means for the financial arrangement of the event were considered. A committee was finally appointed to agitate the matter and rally the interest of members. This committee will probably take steps to secure an appropriation from the Legislature. They are to report at a meeting to be held on the evening of Friday, March 22. This committee consists of Edgar Wood, J. W. Gilmore, Prof. Sedgwick, Miss Pope and Miss Adams.

PEARL HARBOR DREDGING BID

How the Rio's Loss Changed a Contractor's Bid.

A letter to a member of the Advertiser staff contains this general information:

"Sam Henery is still in Honolulu, I guess. There was one fortunate thing about the sinking of the Rio Janeiro in Golden Gate, and that is this: Henery wrote a letter to W. R. Clark, his partner, advising him to make a certain bid for dredging a channel at Pearl Harbor. The letter was probably lost. Anyway, Clark submitted a bid amounting to $100,000, and it will probably be accepted by the government. Had he received Henery's letter he would have bid about $20,000 less. Hoping to hear from you soon, I am, sincerely yours."
